zforeman@fflegal.com

Zachary L. Foreman is a skilled litigator with a focus on admiralty and maritime law, business disputes, personal injury, and medical negligence matters. Mr. Foreman has ample experience representing both plaintiffs and defendants. This background enables him to see issues from multiple angles, leading to more effective legal representation for his clients. Mr. Foreman now represents a diverse range of clients, from cruise lines and shipyards to small business owners.

Before joining Foreman Friedman, Mr. Foreman gained valuable experience in London working for a major bulk carrier and in-house at a major cruise line, where he developed his legal skills and furthered his passion for the law. Zachary is a graduate of The University of Texas-Austin and Florida International University College of Law and is admitted to practice in Florida and Washington. With his extensive experience in admiralty and maritime law, business disputes, personal injury, and medical negligence matters, he provides effective legal representation to individuals and businesses of all sizes.
